

Meet the rental payment app that gives renters more flexibility and agents more certainty.

Save time while helping your tenants become great renters.

RentPay is the simplest way for your tenants to take control of their rent, plan and manage their payments, and get rewarded for their great payment history. And agents save time and hassle too. Win win.

RentPay works by giving renters more flexibility while giving agents more certainty. You set the rent due date, as you do now, and RentPay will make sure rent gets paid – instantly. Tenants get to choose how to pay (direct debit, credit card, BPay) and when to pay (daily, fortnightly, weekly or monthly). RentPay also makes it easy to build up a rental savings buffer. Finally, RentPay users get rewarded for being a good renter, by building their credit score with Scorebuilder.

Why agents love it.

Get paid instantly

No more waiting for funds to clear (or chasing late payments). RentPay uses the “New Payments Platform” (NPP), that means instant payments to your trust account.

Save time reconciling

Payfiles come straight to your inbox or integrate with your trust account management system.

Free to use, no risk

It's free for agents. Tenants pay just $2 per month, with a no-risk 30-day free trial.

Get access to RentPay agent perks.

As a bonus, get free upgraded rental listings on Rent.com.au. RentPay agents get premium listings with larger ads and suburb domination. That's 150% more traffic, free of charge. You also get a branded "find a property manager" page, to promote your agency to more landlords.

Plus, reduce missed payments. When tenants choose the frequency that suits them, and even sync rent to their payday, they're more likely to meet their rental payments on time, every time.

Helping renters financial resilience.

- By helping renters plan and manage payments renters are less likely to miss rent or fall short.
- Average RentPay renters save an additional $85 per month using the financial buffer.
- Good renters get rewarded by building their credit score with Scorebuilder, leading to longer term financial health.
- Giving renters more payment options gives them more flexibility in their budget.
- More renter rewards are on our product roadmap; we're passionate about empowering renters.
